EXPERIENCE

Summer Intern	Phoenix Global Trade Solutions	May 2022 – July 2022
---------------	--------------------------------	----------------------

Objective: Portal to Manage Stock Query

(Web Development)

- Developed a web application for university faculty to manage assignment questions and solutions.
- Implemented interlinking between faculty members for easy access to shared questions.
- Utilized databases to store and retrieve data.

PROJECTS

Objective: Cryptocurrency Price Prediction model

- Developed a web-based application utilizing Flask and Long Short-Term Memory (LSTM) technology to predict cryptocurrency prices.
- Successfully cleaned and preprocessed historical cryptocurrency data to facilitate the training of the LSTM model. The model demonstrated high accuracy in forecasting future cryptocurrency prices, instilling trust in its predictive capabilities.
- The application provided users with valuable insights into the dynamic and often volatile cryptocurrency market, enabling them to make informed decisions based on the model's predictions.

Objective: An Artificial Intelligence approach for Malware detection using Deep Learning

- Conducted research on malware detection methods and identified limitations.
- Proposed an optimized approach using Deep Learning and independent datasets.
- Simulations demonstrated the superior performance of the recommended method, DLCNN.
